Brown Bag Lunches

How to Commit Murder: A Mystery Writer Offers Some Clues

Presented by Evelyn David

Tuesday, June 30, 2009, 12:15 to 1:30 p.m.; Central Library Meeting Room in Cambridge

Evelyn David, author of Murder Off the Books and its new sequel Murder Takes the Cake, will lead a fun, interactive discussion of the mystery genre and the creative process. This is a Brown Bag program, so pack a lunch. The Library will supply beverages and a sweet.

Poetry Reading with Sue Ellen Thompson

Tuesday, July 21, 2009, 12:15 to 1:30 p.m.; Central Library Meeting Room in Cambridge.

Oxford poet Sue Ellen Thompson will share her poetry- in her words- about "ordinary things, for ordinary people, poetry for poetry-haters, as my husband characterizes my work."

Don Parks: Chesapeake Winds and Tides

Tuesday, August 4, 2009, 12:15 to 1:30 p.m.; Central Library Meeting Room in Cambridge.

Don Parks, a retired school administrator, devoted a great deal of his retirement to exploring the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries in his boat, Yankee Rover. The result is an exploration of the culture and heritage of an area heavily influenced by the Chesapeake Bay through conversations with folks from the local communities.
